What is Project BridgeWatch?

Project BridgeWatch seeks to construct a third bridge across the Willamette River connecting the western Willamette Valley and the central Oregon coast to the I-5 corridor. This vital tie supports not just Polk County residents, but also major industry and the tourism trade so crucial to Oregon's economy.

We all need a third bridge: Salem, Polk County, Marion County, Yamhill County, Tillamook County, Lincoln County. Agriculture, private industry, and tourism in our counties provide badly needed jobs, ensuring the continued existence of our way of life here in the Willamette Valley. We need to fight to keep those jobs for our families. One of the best ways to ensure a future for our children is by enhancing our local infrastructure, including the roads and bridges.

Please work with us towards building a new western Oregon lifeline across the Willamette River. Project Bridge Watch's time has come and it will benefit the entire region for generations. Polk County officials are convinced that vocal input from local residents and businesses will help convey the message to the state and federal levels that this bridge is a necessity.

Visit the Project BridgeWatch website for more information and ways that you can become involved and share your support for a third bridge across the Willamette River.
